

STILL ANOTHER BANK WILL OPEN BRANCH HERE

Molson's Bank Making Arrangements to Open For Business
About March 1st.

Following closely upon the announcement that the Bank of Hamilton intends to open in this city, comes the announcement today that the Molson's Bank will also put in a branch in Edmonton, making the tenth chartered bank to establish itself here.

Mr. F. McBeth, manager of the Calgary Branch of the Molson's Bank, spent yesterday and today in the city looking for premises in which to open a branch immediately. To the Bulletin this morning he stated that he had made arrangements for a temporary office and that the Molson's bank would be open for business on or about the first of March.

Although Mr. McBeth would make no statement on the matter, it is reported on the streets this morning that he is negotiating for a site on which to build a permanent bank building for the Molson's Bank.

The premises in which the bank will open its temporary offices is not made public as there are two or three alternative propositions, and it is not known at which one will be accepted.

The Molson's Bank, although one of the most conservative among Canada's national banks, is going after the western business and is recognized as doing a very heavy business both in Winnipeg and Vancouver. With these connections, Molson's will undoubtedly find a large business awaiting them when they open their doors in this city.

The Dominion Government is now considering the question of insurance with a view of seeing what can be done next season by way of legislation to maintain and preserve the confidence of the people in Canadian insurance companies.

Ex-Alderman Smith of Montreal, is president, Clarence F. Smith, of Montreal, vice president and general manager for Western Canada. The Calgary business is to be continued under the management of Charles Packham, while George Stockhard has been appointed manager of the Edmonton branch. It is the intention of the company to erect large warehouses in Winnipeg.

The devonian safe
New York, Feb. 17.—Among the passengers on the Leyland steamer Scituate near Boston, were J. W. B. Page, of Kenora, his wife and daughter Gladys. The boat which sailed from Liverpool was in great peril for some time, having stuck on the rocks, but ocean-going tugs went to her relief and she apparently escaped without much damage, landing her passengers at Boston today.

MANY CALLERS AT GOVT. HOUSE

Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Bulyea Were Hosts to Many Callers Yesterday

Government House was again en fête yesterday afternoon between the hours of three and six o'clock when His Honor or Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Bulyea were again receiving their many friends. From the hour of opening at three o'clock, until the conclusion of the reception at six, His Honor and Mrs. Bulyea were kept constantly employed receiving and greeting all those who desired to take advantage of extending their good wishes to Alberta's first Lieutenant-Governor and his helpmeet. During the afternoon over three hundred callers were presented to His Honor and Mrs. Bulyea. As on the day previous Clarke's orchestra discoursed sweet music during the hours of receiving, and what with the gay appearance of the appropriately decorated interior of Government House, the constantly going and coming of the fashionably dressed callers, the scene was indeed one of exceeding gaiety.

Some conception of the esteem in which His Honor and Mrs. Bulyea are held by their many admirers in Edmonton may be gleaned from the fact that during the two afternoons of the reception over six hundred people took advantage of the opportunity of extending their good wishes and expressing the hope that the occupancy of Government House may be for His Honor and Mrs. Bulyea a period of rich pleasure and happiness. The names of those who called yesterday are as follows:

CHURCH ARMY CONGREGATED
London, Feb. 16.—King Edward told Rev. Wilson Carlile, head of the church army, who was received in audience at Buckingham Palace today, that he often worked twelve hours a day himself. He knew the blessing of work and greatly sympathized with the unemployed. Therefore it was a great comfort to His Majesty to know that the church army was furnishing work for so many. The King specially praised the emigration plans of the army, and said the Carlile "Encourage your good emigrants. I wish for them every happiness that good can produce. They will still be in my Dominion and their emigration will not only benefit themselves and families but the whole Empire."

MCCALL'S DEFENCE
New York Feb. 14.—John A. McCall, ex-president of the New York Life Insurance Co. sent from what may be his death-bed, last night, a defence of his work on the company with Andrew Hamilton. The statement was made late today to his son, John McCall, and others gathered in the death chamber. "It is this God's will, I'm ready to go," McCall told his son. "I've lived a clean life. I've lived my life as I die, and no man, woman or child can say that I ever wronged them."

RAILWAY STATION BURNED
Scranton, Pa., Feb. 16.—The station of the Erie Railroad was totally destroyed by fire today together with baggage and express matter. Three passenger coaches were also burned and the Ariel hotel damaged. The loss is $30,000, partially insured. The fire was caused by the explosion of a steam-heating apparatus.

NEW BANK BUYING SITE

Bank of Hamilton Arranging to Secure Permanent Premises

Mr. E. Kirkpatrick, of Kirkpatrick & Richardson, confirmed the statement today that the Bank of Hamilton, which has already made arrangements to open a branch in this city, is negotiating for the Jasper street property lately occupied by the Bank of Nova Scotia, on which to build a large bank building during the coming summer.

The property in question is a fifty-foot frontage in the heart of the business district, and is counted one of the best lots in the city. The price stated is $600 a foot front, and the transaction of course will be for cash. Mr. H. A. Aylin, Inspector of the Bank of Hamilton, has taken an option on the property and has passed it along to the directors with his unqualified recommendations. Mr. Aylin is at present down the line, but it is expected he will be back this evening and there is every probability that the deal will be closed before he leaves the city.

CURLING

All the sheets were occupied last night in cup games, and some close games were played. In the semi-finals for the Edmonton Brewing and Malting Cup, St. George Jellitt won from Seaside rink, skipped by J. A. McLean, by a score of 9-8. In the Calgary cup competition, J. Thom won out to the semi-finals from Studholme in a close game by a score of 9-10, and Moore also came out in the semi-finals, winning from Bellamy with a score of 13-15.

For Monday night the games will be all in the Calgary cup competition, Jellitt playing Galbraith, the winner of Rae vs. Mercer playing Wize and the winner of Lauder vs. Seard playing Fraser.

One sheet was laid out yesterday by Philip Shafer for point games, which will start on Monday.

BROUGHT IN LARGE FUR PACK

Mild Winter and Little Snow in the North—Conditions Good

P. Cunningham, of Lesser Slave Lake, fur buyer for Bredin & Cornwall, came in from the north last night with 24 packs of furs, valued at approximately $25,000. Mr. Cunningham, in conversation with the Bulletin today, stated that he made the trip of 300 miles with two teams in 10 days. The last stretch of the trail, however, from the landing down, is in bad shape, as there is scarcely any snow, and the sleighing is very poor. Up the other way, of course the ice is good on the river and Lesser Slave Lake, but freighters working between the lake and Peace River Crossing have had a bad winter of it, as there was just enough snow to spoil the wheeling, but not enough for sleighing. They have been using wagons all winter, but the trail to the crossing is strewn with the wrecks of wagons that have come to grief. There are over 100 freighters working on the Lesser Slave trail this winter, and an immense amount of freight is going in this winter—much more than ever before. The fur trade has been exceptionally good this winter, and Mr. Cunningham says that conditions were never better in the north than at the present time.

FRANCE WILL STAND FIRM IN MOROCCO SITUATION

Signs of Outward Freindship Hide Estrangement Between France and Germany But Peaceable Solution Hoped For

Paris, Feb. 17.—The Foreign Office continues to take an optimistic view of the result of the conferences of Algieras, but this is coupled with the statement that France will not yield upon the essential question of the control of police. This position appears to indicate that any German propositions based upon the condition of France relinquishing her claim for police power over Morocco are likely to meet with failure. However there is no evidence of serious Franco-German tension. On the contrary it is significant that a dinner occurs at the German Embassy here Monday at which Prince Von Radolin, the German ambassador, will entertain the three members of the French Cabinet—Premier Rouvier, War Minister Etienne, and Marine Minister Thomson, thus indicating the most agreeable outward relations. Le Temps sharply rejects the idea that certain powers shall try to play the role of arbitrators at Algieras. The paper strongly approves of resistance to German suggestions, and asks that the theatre of this resistance be changed from private conversations between ambassadors to open declarations before the conference.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM BAD WRECK

Express Gets on Wrong Track and Collides With Coal Train

Albany, N.Y., Feb. 17.—A misplaced switch at the west end of the Ravena yard, about 12 miles from Albany, came near causing a serious wreck on the west shore railroad at noon. The "Continental Limited," eastbound from St. Louis to New York, crossed from the east to the west track by mistake, and going at the rate of 60 miles per hour crashed into a heavily laden coal train which stood on a siding nearby. The passengers were badly shaken up. Railroad men regard the escape from a horrible wreck as little less than a miracle.

A SASKATCHEWAN TRAGEDY

Francis, Sask., Feb. 13.—As the result of a row here Rory McDonald of the Gengarry settlement near here is now lying at the point of death with his head split open by an axe, while the German who wielded the murderous weapon is held in charge of Corp. Lea, R. N. W. M. P., awaiting developments.

The sudden tragedy occurred yesterday afternoon, and last night Corp. Lea arrived on the scene to take charge of the prisoner and to make enquiries on which he will base a report to headquarters in Regina. McGregor, whose condition is in the last degree critical, is to be taken up to Regina on today's train, as it is realized that none but the best possible surgical attendance can save the man's life. Corp. Lea is not communicative, but it is understood that the prisoner will go along on the same train, and will probably stand his trial during the present session of the supreme court.

This quiet little town has been thrown into a ferment by the horrible deed, and it is difficult to get at the facts of the case, one version describing the German as making an unprovoked assault on McDonald in the middle of a drunken orgy, and another saying that the quarrel arose from an old-time feud, and that the Teuton and the Celt, their eyes blinded by black blood sought this occasion to settle old scores, until the former, getting the worst of the scrap, caught up an axe and dealt the bloody blow in a paroxysm of rage.

Among the measures foreshadowed in the speech from the throne were, a County Council's Act, measures relative to the management and other questions of importance including the finances of the University of Toronto, respecting changes in the Department of Lands and Mines, amending mining law and volunteer land grants act, revision and consolidation of the railway act, street railway act, and electric railway act, an education measure along the line particularly of improving the public schools, amendments to agriculture, acts especially in respect to the improvement of fairs and exhibitions, and amendments and consolidation of the liquor license act.

Attention is called to the following clauses in the form of contract: "All mechanics, laborers or other persons who perform labour for the purposes of the construction of the works hereby contracted for shall be paid such wages as are generally accepted as current for competent workmen in the District in which the work is being performed, and, if there is no current rate in such district, then a fair and reasonable rate; and, in the event of a dispute arising as to what is the current or a fair and reasonable rate, it shall be determined by the Commissioners, whose decision shall be final."

"This agreement is subject to the regulations now in force, or which may at any time hereafter be in force during the construction of the works hereby contracted for, made under the authority of the Department of Labour, and which are or shall be applicable to such works."

"The contractor shall in connection with the whole of the said work, as far as practicable, use only material, machinery, plant, supplies and rolling stock manufactured or produced in Canada, provided the same can be obtained as cheaply and upon as good terms in Canada as elsewhere, having regard to quality and price."

The contractor shall conform to the Fire Regulations adopted by the Commissioners, and also to the Laws and Regulations respecting fires in the different provinces wherein the work is being performed.

The right is reserved to reject any or all tenders.

THE "EASTERN SECTION"

The Railway Commission is calling for tenders for the construction of two divisions of the Government section of the new transcontinental railway and the erection of a steel viaduct over the Cap Rouge Valley, near the city of Quebec. The two sections comprise a mileage of 190 miles westward from the Quebec bridge and a length of 245 miles eastward from the city of Winnipeg to the junction of the Port William branch of the road.

The conditions of the contract make it apparent that no time is to be unnecessarily lost in the prosecution of the enterprise. Tenders must be in the hands of the commissioners by March 15th and the contracts must be fulfilled by Dec. 1st, 1907. Large deposits are also required as guarantee that this stipulation will be carried out.

The event marks the practical beginning of one of the most remarkable railway enterprises on the continent of America and one which in many respects stands in an absolutely unique position among such enterprises. Whereas the other systems are without exception owned and operated by private individuals or corporations, the section of the new transcontinental from Winnipeg to the Atlantic seaboard will be constructed and owned by the Government and operated in connection with a great privately owned system designed to cover the entire west with branches. By Government ownership the proper construction of the road is assured, public control is maintained over the manner of its conduct and the transportation charges, while by its operation in connection with a great system of radial and branch lines the country is guaranteed against loss of interest on the investment and the accomplishment of the purposes for which the road is being built are assured by the fact that the corporation can prosper only by fulfilling those purposes.

The plan carries the principle of Government ownership more extensively into railway matters than has ever been attempted in the Dominion heretofore and heeds the public interests about by making it possible for the operating company to be successful only by conserving those interests. It has all the advantages of public ownership without the disadvantages often experienced in Government operation.

While the situation in the west can only be met by the construction of the comprehensive system of branch lines proposed by the Grand Trunk Pacific Company the really important portion of the line is the Government section. The bug-bear of Canadian railway enterprises has been for years the unproductive fatness between James Bay and Lake Superior. As Sir William Van Horne said several years since the C. P. R. line through this section is the spot of the western hopper and the spot is too small for the hopper. However many railways traverse the western prairie, while only one line and that under private ownership connected the western and the eastern systems, the entire west must remain at the mercy of the company owning the line and our traffic be subject to the capacity of that line. Railway construction is comparatively easy and railway operation certainly profitable in the west, but the multiplication of local western lines or systems could never remove the disability under which national and international traffic suffered from the lack of an inlet and outlet to the east.

This could only be relieved by the construction of a line giving additional facilities for the interchange of eastern and western commerce and guaranteeing such interchange under the conditions of railway competition. By the completion of the enterprises undertaken by the Government such facilities will be provided, and provided under circumstances levying the least possible fixed charges on the earning capacity of the road and assuring to the public the benefit of railway tariff determined by cost and competition instead of by monopoly.

TELEPHONE MATTERS

Some party, evidently interested, but anonymous, has circulated the city with marked copies of the Peterborough Morning News, containing an article with regard to the automatic telephones in which it is sought to intimate that the automatic is as yet only in the experimental stage, and that as a practical workable proposition it is out of the question.

Peterborough has had trouble with the automatic, or rather the automatic which was awarded a franchise in Peterborough, has never been installed and the service is not yet working although they have been two years in possession of the franchise.

The reasons why this is the case are not apparent at this distance, but whether it is the fault of the automatic or not is a matter which is entirely aside from the question that is now before the Edmonton public, as the system which the city councillors and board of trade men examined in Grand Rapids and Chicago is the Chicago Automatic, and not the Peterborough Machine Telephone, which are two entirely different propositions.

The interests of the parties who had the Peterborough News circulated in the city are not apparent, but as it is presumed to give the other side of the case it is worthy of re-publication in full, with a few trifling explanations. The following is the article as it appeared in the News:

ONLY EXPERIMENTAL

"Why is it that nearly two years after the granting of a franchise to the Machine Telephone Company its system is not yet in operation in Peterborough, and the company is practically at a standstill? The question has been asked many times of late by shareholders and the general public of Peterborough, but the answers given have been evasive and unsatisfactory.

"The real reason, we believe, is that the automatic telephone is as yet in only an experimental stage, and this conviction has been strengthened by the conduct of the machine company during the past year and a half. It is still further confirmed by two reports of telephone experts, which have recently come under our notice.

"Mr. H. W. Kent, general superintendent of the British Columbia Telephone Company, has just lately returned to Vancouver after a month's trip East, during which he visited Winnipeg, St. Paul, Chicago, Grand Rapids, Detroit, Toronto, Peterborough and Montreal. In each of the above cities Mr. Kent looked into the workings of the telephone, and to the Vancouver 'News-Advertiser' he thus reports the result of his observations:—

"Yes, I have just returned from the East. My trip was for the purpose of investigating the latest, and most up-to-date telephone systems. I went to Chicago, where I spent several days in the factory of the Automatic Telephone Company and also the Western Electric Company; the latter are the largest manufacturers of manual switchboards in the world.

"I also observed the use of the two systems in Chicago. It appeared to me that the automatic was very little used and that the manual did nearly all the business. Nearly all the subscribers in the district served by both systems had two telephones.

"In Grand Rapids the Automatic appeared to be satisfactory to some of its subscribers, but to others it was not so. An automatic instrument, which I observed for two hours, required the service of an inspector twice to straighten it out during that time. There are at least four thousand duplicate telephones in Grand Rapids, and everyone I spoke to earnestly wished there was only one company operating in the city, as two were a nuisance and cost double.

"Mr. Fleher and other officials of the Automatic Company were very desirous of selling my company an automatic switchboard and instruments. I have not yet made a report to my directors, but I may say that I cannot recommend that system.

"The automatic is a most ingenious and pretty machine, but from a practical point of view it has so many drawbacks that I am satisfied our clients here will get better service through the latest manual central energy switchboard, such as we have already in operation in Victoria.

"Mr. John Hesketh, Electrical Engineer in the Postmaster General's Department at Queensland, Australia, after completing a trip round the world, during which he made a thorough examination of telephone systems in various countries, has just made a report to his Government. His remarks on the automatic telephone appear in the Electrical Review, New York, and are:—

"I have most seriously and carefully considered the question, and am obliged to report that there is not in operation today any system of automatic or semi-automatic telephone exchange that I could recommend to the Minister to adopt for the large centres in Australia. I desire, however, that this should not be taken as a wholesale condemnation of automatic systems. On the contrary I consider that we must look to automatic assistance of manually operated boards for future developments. What I am compelled to believe is that at the present date the highest development of telephone is the common battery system as operated so extensively and successfully by all classes of users practically throughout the whole of the United States. It must not be forgotten that the operation of the common battery switchboard is very largely automatic and is tending to become more so; but the automatic features are under the care and control of trained operators, where they can be applied to the best effect.

"I have no hesitation in saying that the common battery system will enable an administration to do more in building up a permanently satisfactory system than any other method in use at the present date. Further, there is nothing to indicate that this system will, if adopted, fail to give facilities for the adoption of newer methods as they may be devised."

"The testimony of these gentlemen, both experienced and practical men, whose investigations should further enable them to speak with authority, is to the effect that automatic telephones are not a commercial success, being as yet practically in an experimental stage, and this finding seems to have

completely with our experience in Peterboro.

Regarding the Australian expert's opinion, he is too far away and there is too little known at this distance as to the circumstances surrounding his case to make it possible to pass judgment on his opinion. It is noticeable, however, that the date at which the report was made is not given in the Morning News article. It might have been last month or ten years ago, for all the light shed on that part of it. And it is also noticeable that he does not state when and where he saw the automatic in operation or whether he ever saw it at all. His statement that the common battery system is the one in use all over the United States is hardly of weight, because this is a matter of franchise rather than of superiority. The automatic is shut out of hundreds of cities in the United States by the fact that the Bell has the franchise.

With regard to the interview published in the News-Advertiser, of Vancouver, however, the circumstances are well known. At the time that the interview was given, H. W. Kent was just emerging from a long and exciting fight with Mayor Buscombe, the anti-monopoly mayor of Vancouver. In which the British Columbia Telephone Company, of which Kent is the general manager, got decidedly the worst of it. At the outset of the fight the B. C. Telephone Co. claimed that it had the right under its franchise, to put up poles or lay conduits wherever it liked in the city limits. Irrespective of the wishes of the city council. The company wished to put the wires underground, something that the city wanted done, and which no one in Vancouver denied was a good work, but the company undertook to do without consulting the city council. Mayor Buscombe, acting on the advice of Joseph Martin, who was at that time city solicitor, set up the contention that the company had no right to lay a conduit of any kind until it signed an agreement with the city and he took action to prevent them doing so. The company undertook to defy the city council, and commenced digging a trench for the conduits. Mayor Buscombe turned out the fire brigade and drove the workmen out of the trench with a stream of water from the city fire engine. The matter was taken to the courts for settlement, and while the litigation was in progress Kent climbed down and signed an agreement with the city, one of the clauses of which was that a better telephone system should be installed. The system was not named, so that, although it must come up to a certain standard of efficiency, it is optional with Kent what kind of system shall be installed.

As his interview has shown he decides in favor of the central energy system as against the automatic, but it must be remembered that the B. C. Telephone Co., which has wires all over that province, is using the central energy everywhere else, and if the automatic were installed in Vancouver, it would be the only system of the kind in the company's service. It is well known, of course, that no company wants to have a different style of appliance in every town.

Furthermore, it is generally believed on the coast that the B. C. Telephone Co. is merely a side issue of the Bell, or rather that it is working under a thorough understanding with the Bell and that large blocks of the B. C. stock are held by the Bell people.

This has not been proven, either in court or out of it, but if true, it discounts Mr. Kent's statement to a large extent as his utterance then is merely that of a Bell man saying that their greatest rival, the Automatic, is not as good as they are.

The selection of tobacco takes time and great care—the conditions of its growth, the soil, the planting, and the cultivation, must all be considered.

I have studied tobacco from the seed to the cigar. I have a thorough knowledge of the qualities grown on the different plantations in the Manicouaga district of Cuba, where the best tobaccos are produced. It is from the best of these plantations that I buy the filler of my Pharaoh Cigar.

I was the first manufacturer in Canada to use Manicouaga tobacco. It proved such a winner that the tobacco agents in New York sell thousands of boxes of tobacco under that name that was never within one hundred miles of the district.

I visit these plantations every season, and personally select the tobacco I buy. The growers there call me a tobacco crank because I am so careful and particular in the selection of my tobacco. I would rather be thought a crank than jeopardize the quality of my Pharaoh cigar.

I know that every time you smoke a Pharaoh cigar you will thank me for being a tobacco crank—that is full recompense for my trouble and care.

HOCKEY

The second game of the series between the student hockeyists and the Intermediate Thistles will be played in the Thistle rink on Monday evening, and there is no reason to believe that either team will do any loafing. With a forward combination to beat which is composed of chunky chaps like Ernie Clark, and star rushers like "Cookie" Gauvreau, the bunch from the hall of learning will have to go some. But they have Dobson who has the clinch on the lads with his long reaches. But one thing may be said of the teams and that is that they put up a clean exhibition, and play scientific hockey to a finish, and the games are as interesting and exciting as any that the senior aggregation have put up.

THE MARKETS

Edmonton, February 16.
Wheat.
Deliveries in wheat have been rather light this week. The Dowling Milling Co. reports very light deliveries with prices:

No. 1 northern 63 to 65c.
No. 2 northern 60c.
No. 3 northern 58c.
Rejected, 48c.
At the Alberta Milling Co.'s mills the deliveries in wheat have been fairly good, considering the dry condition of the country roads, the farmers having to haul all their grain at present on wheats. They are paying for No. 1 northern, 63 cents, for No. 2, 60 cents, and for No. 3 wheat, 58 cents.

Oats

Brackman-Ker mills report extremely light deliveries in oats, the prices being from 24 to 25 cents.
Deliveries in oats have been very fair on the city market, and a good many loads came in yesterday. The prices quoted there are for feed oats, 25c to 26c, and for milling oats, 27c.

Hay

There is also plenty of hay in the city market yards, which is going at $6 to $8 for slough hay, for upland $8 to $11 and for timothy from $14 to $18.

Coal

Deliveries in coal on the city markets are very steady at 22.50.
Williamson Bros. quote hogs at 51-4c alive; beef at from 21-2c to 3c alive, mutton at 51-2c, chickens at from 12-1-2 to 18c, dressed, and turkeys at from 15 to 17, dressed.
